

Happy Holidays

December 2014

"Wow and Wow!"

Recently a visitor commented on TripAdvisor, "Wow and Wow" We couldn't have said it any better. We've spent the last year updating our galleries and opening new exhibits. See what all the excitement is about! Make a visit to the museum one of your 2015 New Year's Resolutions.

More on TripAdvisor

"This is a must see! They have done an excellent job of creating very informative displays and exhibits. Mel Fisher's life & experiences are well told, then you go in to the treasure exhibits. Gold, jewels, coins, gem-encrusted jewelry, gold chains and artifacts abound! The craftsmanship of some of these artifacts is incredible! Upstairs there was an exhibit on pirates and one

Open House . Reception . New Exhibits

Mel Fisher Maritime Museum

Celebrating 30 Years of Treasure

Open House

Jan 13th 2015
5:30pm - 7:00pm

Join us as we kick-off our 30th Anniversary Celebration!

Reception and free parking sponsored by the Westin Key West Resort & Marina.

200 Greene Street . Key West

Celebrating 30 Years of Treasure

It was 1969 when Mel Fisher began his search for the Spanish treasure galleon Atocha. It became a sixteen year adventure that included financial hardship, tragic loss, and triumph. Each day began with Mel's rally "Today's the Day!" Finally, in 1985, it was.

The museum will spend 2015 "Celebrating 30 Years of Treasure" as we recount the search for the Atocha and the recovery of its treasures. "The real treasure is the historical insight," says museum archaeologist Corey Malcom. "The silver and gold are impressive, but the history is simply priceless."

We begin our celebration on Jan 13th, when we open the doors to the museum from 5:30-7pm for an open house and reception, sponsored by the Westin Key West Resort & Marina. (Free parking available at the Westin parking garage.) We hope that you will be able to join us!

on the slave ships which was extremely interesting ... well worth the money and time."
--J from Vermont

Join our mailing list

Forward to a friend

from your friends at the

Mel Fisher Maritime Museum
